

- Be part of significant industry reform and make a difference to NSW communities
- Newly created key senior role
- Transport for NSW senior service role offering an attractive remuneration package

Be part of making NSW a great place to live, work and visit. Looking for your next challenge? Unique opportunity to improve transport outcomes.

About us

NSW TrainLink is proud to connect people and communities throughout NSW - by providing intercity, regional and interstate rail and coach services.

Each year our customers take more than 35 million journeys with our safe, reliable and comfortable trains with on board facilities.

Transport for NSW's vision for 2056 is to maximise regional NSW potential and recognise the diversity between regions in their natural assets, individual communities, local skills and globally competitive industries.

The opportunity

We have an exciting opportunity for an Associate Director Operations Planning & Readiness to join our Regional Rail Fleet Project team within NSW TrainLink. This is a key senior role that will support the transformation of public transport across regional NSW through the delivery of a next generation regional fleet.

You will have the opportunity to lead, develop and implement a comprehensive operational readiness plan to assure the seamless transition of a new regional train fleet into revenue service. The role will be required to work closely with both internal and external stakeholders, including suppliers, to define a new regional fleet concept of operations, to ensure business operational readiness, and to advocate for fleet operational outcomes amongst other large capital infrastructure projects.

As a newly established role, the Associate Director will have an exciting opportunity to build a new team within the Program. This is a fixed term opportunity until 2023 and will report to the Program Director Regional Rail Readiness.

To be successful in this role you will have extensive experience in the development, delivery and management of large programs delivering change, ideally within the rail environment.
